THAT Wonderful YEAR

According to Webster, the word pemican is defined as "dried lean meat in the form of pressed cakes." To the students of High Point High School, the word pemican means a book summarizing a year of life at High Point High School—"comprising within a small compass choice bits of an eventful school year."

It is the purpose of the 1962 Pemican to unfold the events of the year as the seasons unfold—fall, winter, and spring. The completed work will be a book of memories—memories of a wonderful year at our alma mater.

The seasons were good to High Point High this year. A warm autumn came with pep rallies, football games, College Day, the junior play, and Thanksgiving holidays. As winter came, the weather turned colder, and students quickened their paces in happy anticipation of Christmas vacation—the two weeks of calm before the storm of mid-term exams. We went to basketball games, the senior play, and kept up with the news with the Pointer. Then came spring, and High Point High was at her best. The talent show, proms, and final exams kept us busy, but not too busy to look toward graduation with mixed emotions.

The seniors leave High Point High to go on to college, trade school, or a job. Others stay behind, looking forward to the year they will be seniors. To those leaving, may the 1962 Pemican serve to remind you of that wonderful year—1962. To those who stay, may the 1962 Pemican inspire you to even greater heights in 1963 and 1964.

The calm of a spring day ...

The year 1962 has been characterized by changes in school appearance, tradition, and faculty.

Surrounded by bright new grass, the long-awaited convenient sidewalk was laid on the High Point High School campus. Construction was begun on the new wing, and additional parking area was created.

Seniors proudly displayed their blue-stone class rings, a symbol of broken tradition. Our first outdoor pep rally was hailed a splendid success.

The faculty exhibited some alterations, but many familiar faces could still be found in the General Office, a favorite gathering place for many. New faces became familiar in the span of that wonderful year.

This aerial view of High Point High School reveals its vastness.

The sentinel-like towers of our school are its trademark.

the feeling of co-operation,

Outstanding at High Point High School is the spirit of co-operation in which students and faculty work together. What student is not heartened on a dark day by a friendly smile or a word of praise from a teacher? And what teacher is not encouraged by an extra word of thanks at the end of a hard day? Without this student-faculty co-operation, we could have no football or basketball games, no class plays, no College Day, no proms, no homecoming parade, no clubs; in fact, we could not have had a wonderful year in 1961-1962.

High Point High School is a building, but it takes more than a building to make a school. It takes people—people who are willing to stick together, to work together under all circumstances. We at High Point High School believe that we have these ingredients in the composition of our school.

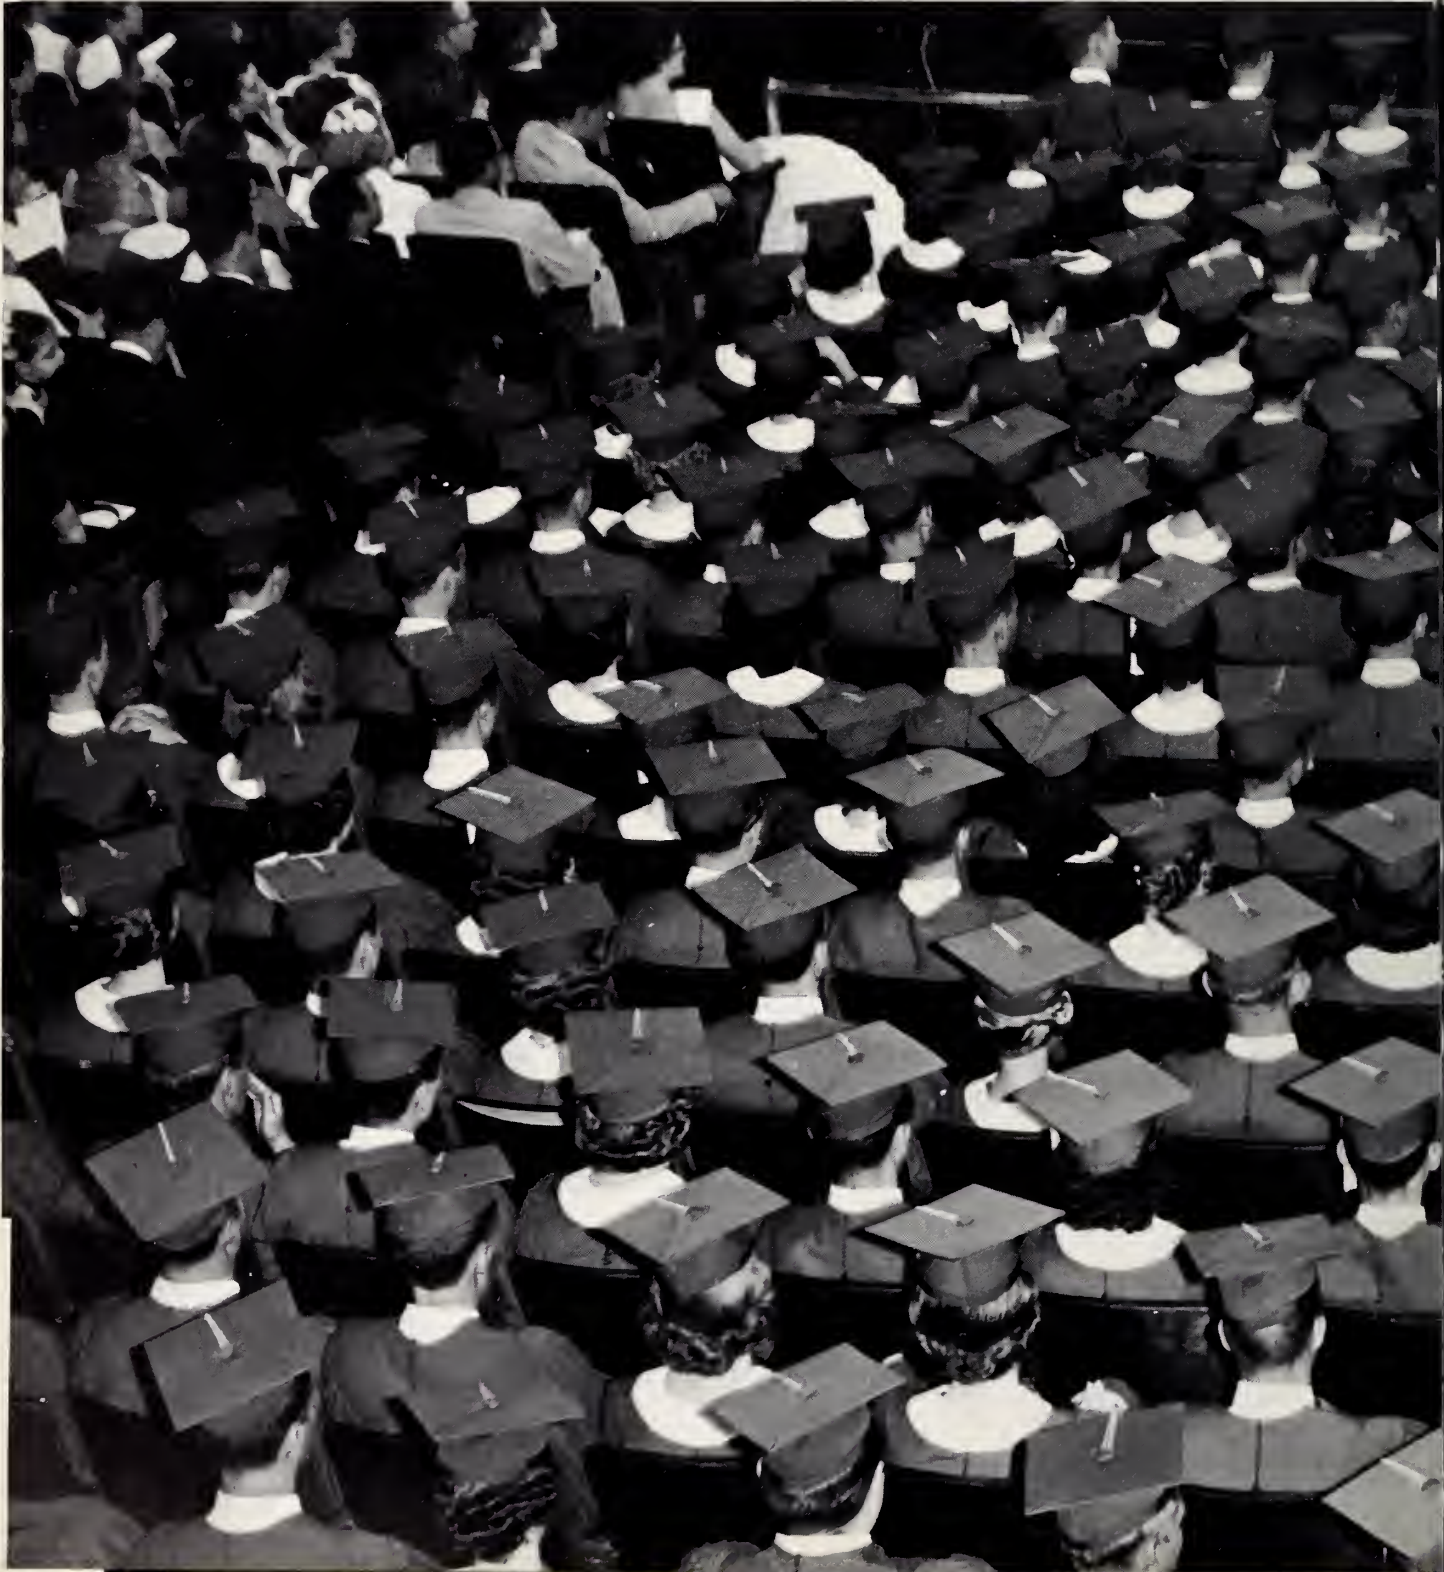

The green trees and blue sky of a spring day blend in well with the yellow of our school to make a pleasant sight for passers-by.

...the alpha and omega of graduation...

We Dedicate . . .

Vivid memories recur in the minds and hearts of many a sophomore, junior, senior, and graduate, as he recalls an enchanted hour spent in her classroom each day. During the year her love grows and radiates into the life of every pupil. As she teaches, characters in literature become living, breathing beings long to be remembered. Her ideals of character and honesty offer a life-long pattern for honor and success. She will always be remembered as a friend, counselor, and superlative teacher—Miss Geneva Highfill.

Miss Geneva Highfill

Fall recalls wonderfully happy moments at the end of a victorious football game. From float building to the sock hop, Homecoming was a glorious day. Clubs were organized and new members selected. Each organization conducted worthwhile service projects which aided the needy or improved the school. On College Day, representatives from many nearby colleges and universities discussed with students the importance of a future education. Seniors were counseled by Miss Frances Haywood who helped them select schools best suited to them. Underclassmen also began making definite plans for higher education. Pursuing new courses was the real adventure of the fall.

ADMINISTRATION . . .

W. A. Tomlinson, chairman of the High Point City School Board.

The High Point City School Board formed policies for the High Point school system and was responsible for the operation of the city schools.

This year the Board extended a building program begun several years ago. They planned additions to High Point Senior High School, William Penn High School, and Brentwood Elementary School. The Board also approved funds for the schools, took charge of individual student assignments, designated the dates for the opening and closing of schools, set up the school calendar, and approved purchases of school supplies.

New members of the Board this year were Mr. John W. Clinard, Jr., and Dr. Perry P. Little. Other members were Mr. R. M. Campbell, Mr. W. H. Marlette, Mrs. Evelyn Thompson, Mrs. John A. Womack, and Mr. W. A. Tomlinson.

The Board met monthly at the Administration Building.

School Board, Administrators lead the way

High Point City School Board—Dr. Perry Little, John W. Clinard, Jr., W. A. Tomlinson, chairman; Mrs. J. A. Womack, Mrs. Evelyn Thompson, W. H. Marlette.

Dr. Dean B. Pruette received his A.B. degree from Limestone College, his M.A. degree from the University of North Carolina, and his doctorate from Columbia University. His experience includes teaching in Cleveland County and serving as principal in Shelby, Valdese, and High Point. In 1952 he became superintendent of High Point schools.

Dr. Pruette provided leadership for the schools by attending scheduled meetings, serving on committees, making numerous speeches, and publishing various articles.

Dr. Lloyd Y. Thayer, director of instruction of High Point schools, received his B. A. and M.A. degrees from Wake Forest College and his doctorate from the University of North Carolina.

He taught and served as principal in Union and Wake counties. In 1939 Dr. Thayer came to Elm Street School in High Point. He was the first principal of Tomlinson School and later was head of Ferndale Junior High School.

Dr. Thayer worked with principals and teachers to co-ordinate the instructional program of the schools.

Dr. William Jackson Scott, new principal of HPHS, graduated at the University of North Carolina. He continued his studies at UNC to earn both his master's degree and his doctorate.

Before coming to High Point in July, 1961, Dr. Scott worked with the State Board of Education in Raleigh. Previously he had held principalships in Forsyth County and in Mooresville.

During 1961-62, Dr. Scott met the challenges of a large and complex school, proving himself to be an adept organizer and a resourceful executive.

Counselors, secretaries form the backbone of Mr. Ralph H. Vance and Miss Frances Haywood served as counselors to the students throughout the year.

Although faced with many important duties during the day, Mr. Vance, dean of High Point High, was never too busy to help a student who sought his advice or opinion. Besides acting as dean, Mr. Vance attended to such daily duties as issuing a bulletin of absences, tardies, check-outs, and truancies. He also had general oversight of the school clinic.

In the fall of 1961, Miss Haywood began her work as full-time director of guidance services. Previously she had combined English teaching with guidance at HPHS. Miss Haywood worked with the faculty, the administration, and the parents to provide expert counseling and guidance for all students. As director of guidance, she worked closely with the PTA in connection with the activities of American Education Week. She advised sophomores and assisted juniors and seniors in making choices of colleges and universities. Miss Haywood supervised the College Board tests in the High Point area. In addition, she served as adviser of the senior class.

Mr. Ralph H. Vance, dean of High Point High School, is always ready to lend a helping hand to a student.

Miss Frances Haywood, guidance counselor, helps Ronnie Dennis with plans for college.

Mr. Vance and Miss Haywood are just two of the indispensable people at HPHS.

High Point High School

Mrs. Johnsie Jackson, secretary, is a favorite of students and teachers alike. Her cheerful smile and happy greeting are a bright spot in the day of all who come in contact with her.

Mrs. Doris Teague, assistant secretary, has many seniors in her debt, for it is her task to prepare transcripts for colleges.

General office secretaries, Mrs. Johnsie Jackson and Mrs. Doris Teague, added much to the success of the year in the way of friendliness as well as helpfulness.

Mrs. Jackson's many secretarial duties included supervising the school bus drivers, filing reports, telephoning, writing business letters, taking care of money, issuing books, and, in general, seeing that the office was operated smoothly.

Mrs. Teague, assistant secretary, registered new students, made transcripts of seniors' records to be sent to colleges, filed statistical reports, answered telephone calls and inquires, and compiled office data. She also supplied information to students.

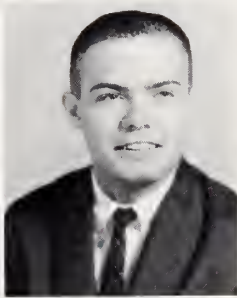

Mrs. Teague discusses the events of the day with her son Bill and Bill Scott.

A new teacher at HPHS this year, Mr. Roger DeMont is gaining many friends in his American History classes.

CURRICULUM . . .

Students realize the value of pursuing

Nouns, verbs, adjectives, adverbs; basic essentials are learned by many sophomores in Miss Highfill's classroom.

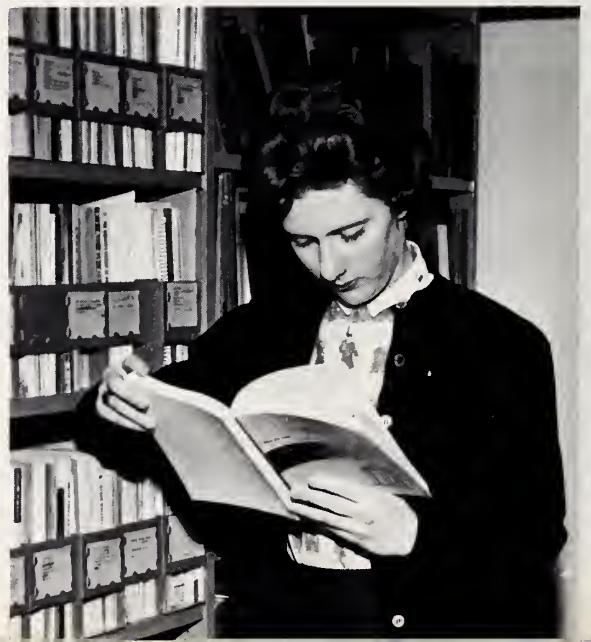

English students concentrated on essential grammar and spelling. Through themes, book reports, and term papers, they gained experience in self-expression. Sophomores, following a general literature program, gained knowledge and appreciation of plays and poetry. To juniors, English meant the study of American essays, short stories, and poems; and to seniors it meant a survey of English literature with emphasis upon Chaucer, Shakespeare, and Milton.

To seniors, the library was a rich source of information for reports and term papers. To juniors and sophomores, it provided special help for drama reading and class projects. To all students, it provided fascinating books for every taste and a friendly atmosphere for research and reading.

Library helpers Troy Proctor and Barbara Banks look and learn as Mrs. Poston checks out books for Frankie Clinard and Ronnie Dennis.

Which college to attend? It's a serious choice. Wanting to make no mistakes, Jill Dunivant checks carefully many catalogues.

basic courses to prepare for the future

Miss Guignard, Miss Long's practice teacher, helps Brenda Dockery, Balinda Davis, and Gertrude Livengood make Macbeth's witches come alive.

Ricky Bell entertains Miss Goodman's Speech Class with a humorous speech.

The rise of interest in classical culture was reflected in an increased enrollment in the Latin classes. The study of grammar, vocabulary, and Latin translations enabled students to understand the Roman people and their contributions to the modern world.

Speech classes at HPHS stressed the importance of effective public speaking. By participating in activities such as dramatics, parliamentary procedure, panel discussions, and story-telling, students gained skill and confidence.

Amo, amas, a-what? Second year Latin students rapidly take notes in Miss Hunter's class.

Spanish I students Nat Oliver, Jerry Armstrong, Kathy Murrow, Gary Melnikov, Albert Madden, and Malcolm Weathers show off the bulletin board composed of handmade Christmas cards—with greetings in Spanish.

Miss McDavid checks the French exercises being worked out by her first year French pupils.

Languages and social studies help develop

First-year Spanish students tackled vocabularies and translations with zeal and enthusiasm. Second-year students enriched their regular work by learning songs, poems, and traditions of the Spanish people.

Students of first-year French studied grammar and improved their accents by listening to French pronunciation records.

French III students listen to a grammatical explanation given by the instructor, Miss Mourane.

Second-year students added to their proficiency by translating short stories, poems, and novels.

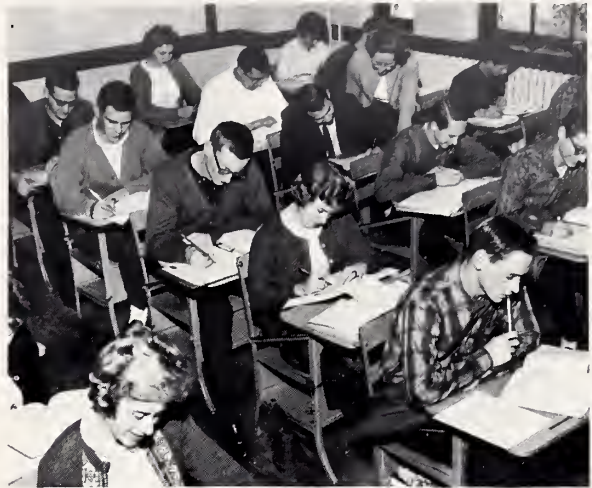

Both language departments participated in the State Language Examination program; and both departments sent representatives to the annual Language Day celebration at Woman's College, Greensboro.

French students Jean Mason and Bill Perryman lead a French dance at the annual Language Day program.

Mr. Butler ties in appreciation of the works of the great masters with his World History course.

Battle of Hastings, Waterloo, Argonne Forest, Battle of Midway—these are just a few of the places and events to learn about in Mrs. Whitesell's World History class.

an insight of our own and other cultures

To students having inquiring turns of mind, the social studies courses at HPHS offered a means of storing up valuable information on the past in relation to the future. They learned the significance of historical developments as well as the dramatic story of mankind as told in American and World History. Courses in related fields of study included geography and problems of American Democracy.

Each morning 140 students of American and World History gathered in the orchestra room to hear the televised lectures from Chapel Hill and afterward to discuss the main points of each lesson.

The regular classes in history and geography emphasized oral reports, map construction, critical news summaries of newspaper editorials and television newscasts, projects illustrating certain periods of history, and panel discussion led by the students themselves. The publication Everyweek provided up-to-the-minute news for class reading and discussions.

Miss Louisa Hatch, new department head, directed the work in social studies.

Eager to learn of their rich heritage, these junior girls enjoy American History.

Math and science lure technically-minded

Puzzled advanced algebra students watch as Miss Welch explains diminished equations to them.

Axioms, postulates, theorems are all a part of the knowledge acquired in plane geometry, as Mrs. Holder points out to Gary Holland, Jerry Groce, Ricky Larriek, Franklin Ross, and Steve Deal.

General mathematics, business arithmetic, algebra, plane geometry, trigonometry, solid geometry, and college algebra—these were the challenging courses offered at HPHS. Taken separately or in various combinations, they provided each student with the mathematics which would adequately meet his needs after high school.

Most sophomores took a course in algebra. Juniors and seniors who wished to prepare themselves for college and for achievement in today's technical world chose plane geometry and the elective course of solid geometry and trigonometry. Advanced students pursued college algebra. All students in higher mathematics classes gained a workable knowledge of analytical geometry and modern algebra.

Future business leaders, who desired to gain experience in income tax reporting and in other phases of general business administration, studied business mathematics. Girls interested in finding out how to balance a budget also took advantage of the course in business mathematics.

Students pursuing advanced studies in mathematics had the opportunity to test their skills in mathematics and to gain recognition for themselves as well as for their school by being participants in the State Mathematics Examination. The examination dealt with the primary high school subjects of algebra and plane geometry.

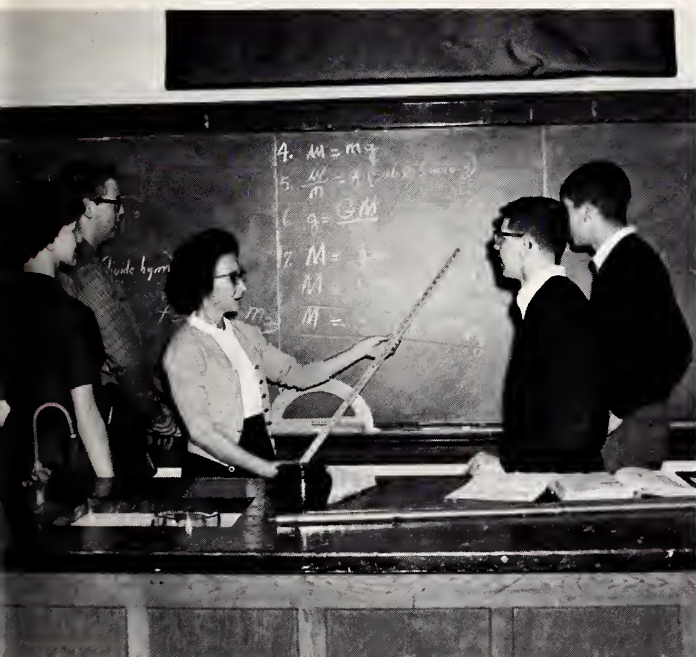

students into challenging research fields

Many students took advantage of the excellent courses offered by the Science Department. Sophomores taking biology learned about the complexities of plant and animal life by studying insects, making leaf notebooks, and dissecting earthworms and frogs. Juniors and seniors wishing to delve into the changes that matter undergoes elected physics and chemistry. Students got their first taste of experimentation in chemistry class. Physics students undertook the study of physical changes of matter. Taking nothing for granted, they tested theories by experiment and by observation. Elements, compounds, radar, neutrons, electrons, atomic energy, radiation, satellites, nuclear studies, astronauts, cosmonauts, and men in orbit were popular topics of everyday conversation. All science students had the opportunity through Science Fair projects to show what they could do with knowledge gained from class study and experimentation. The interest shown was a clear indication that students realized the importance of science in the modern world.

Dissecting frogs is a necessary evil of biology, Mrs. Flowers tells Vicki Loflin, Jerri Arrington, and Ann Glidewell.

Mrs. Dockery explains a physics principle to seniors Dorothy Lester, Ralph Montgomery, Steve Hyman, and Lee Sherrill.

Sewing is just one of the skills learned in Home Economics.

Home Ec and business courses help prepare

In the delightful surroundings of the "practice house" apartment on first floor, home economics students pursued the basic courses of cooking and sewing. The curriculum also included a study of interior decorating, personal and family problems, management, housing, child development, the care and repair of clothing, food, nutrition, and health. Through the development of practical homemaking units, the girls learned the importance of budgeting their money, time, and energy in relation to efficient home management.

Topics that received special emphasis were Family Life and Child Development. Speakers, panel discussions, and projects made these courses both interesting and practical. Through the study of these topics, the students learned to solve both personal and homemaking problems, to plan and work cooperatively, and to get along with people of their own age.

Lenda Kates, Lynnette Rice, Pam Masline, Stephanie Teague, and Ann Boulware mix another of the Home Ec Department's famous dishes.

Mrs. Griffin gives guidance in proper table setting to Geraldine Luther, Judy Boggs, Betty Poston, and Bonnie Mishoe.

Pat Smith practices using an adding machine.

Amid the clatter and clack of a roomful of typewriters, students still manage to concentrate on their own keyboards.

students for marriage and business careers

Students enrolled in commercial courses combined fast finger work and accurate thinking in order to achieve their speed of sixty words a minute in typewriting. Shorthand, bookkeeping, business mathematics, and office practice were also important steps in student preparation for filling future positions in the business world.

To gain practical experience, students performed secretarial duties for school officials, served as assistants to teachers, and did part-time work in offices uptown.

Preparing to be a secretary is serious business.

Accounting—a basic course for success in business.

Boys gain useful skills in Industrial Arts

Woodwork, metalwork, and mechanical drawing were the courses offered by the industrial arts department. Students electing these courses learned the technique of designing, drawing, and building various articles of wood and metal.

Students in woodwork courses learned to build small articles, then to construct larger pieces of furniture. Vocational woodwork gave students who plan to work in factories a guide to making articles in mass production. The students made gun cabinets as projects and also constructed 75 hurdles for the athletic field.

In metalwork classes the students learned to operate welders, metal lathes, surface grinders, and milling machines. They also mastered the technique of metal casting. Trays and lamp bases were popular projects of the metalwork classes.

In mechanical drawing classes, students became skilled in making detailed working drawings, including blue prints and house plans.

In Mr. Whitesell's class, boys learn to work with their hands to build beautiful pieces of furniture.

Mr. Mann supervises the work of one of his wood-working classes.

Mr. Bays assists Bill Gregory with a problem in Mechanical Drawing, as other students continue their work.

Driver Training stresses respect for law

This may look like fun, but it is serious business to Patsy Hill, Nicki Sue Yow, Elaine Hardin, Emily Miller, and Ann Blackwell.

Under the direction of Messrs. J. Frank Shields and J. Don Myers, students of HPHS learned that right attitudes toward driving and safe driving practices are vitally important factors in learning to operate an automobile. To accomplish their goals, students pursued a nine-weeks course divided into two periods. During the classroom phase of the work, they learned the rules and regulations of the road and took tests to determine reaction time, depth perception, steadiness, visual acuity, eye dominance, and glare and color vision. During the under-the-wheel phase, students completed the required eighteen hours in the automobile. In the dual control cars, they mastered smooth starting and stopping, turning, parking, backing, and driving—both in traffic and on the open road.

Mr. Myers gives David Ensley, Roger Rich, and Freddy Sawyer last minute instructions before going out on the road.

"Higher, girls!" Miss Hester instructs.

Appreciation of and participation in sports

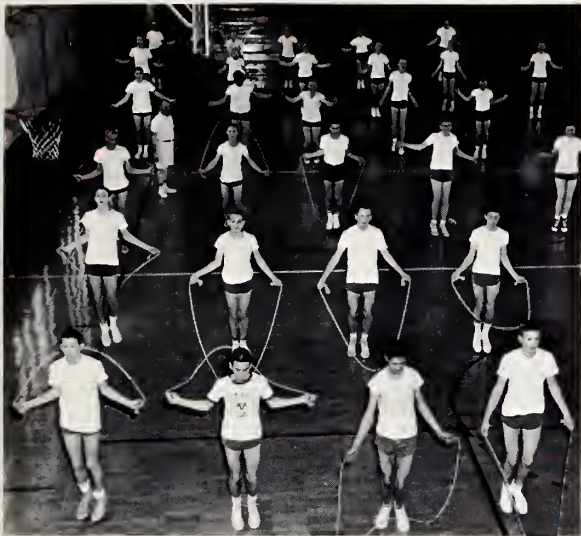

P.E. and calisthenics are synonymous.

Physical education students at HPHS made good progress in the field of sports and at the same time developed ideals of sportsmanship. Gymnastics, plus individual and team sports, provided a routine which helped to develop muscular co-ordination and skill.

Under the direction of Miss Pat Hester, the girls took part in the individual sports of track and tennis and the team sports of basketball, volleyball, speedball, soccer, and softball.

Coach Simeon and his assistants provided a well-balanced program of sports activities, including the individual sports, track and tennis, and the team sports of football, basketball, wrestling, volleyball, and softball. The boys who enjoyed exercise or sought to develop muscular skills through participation in sports found plenty of opportunities for such fun. They endeavored to maintain good sportsmanship in all competitive games.

Jumping rope isn't just for children, Mr. Simeon's class learns.

are two phases of physical education

Up and down, up and down. These calisthenics separate the men from the boys.

What do you mean, "you've got it"? I've got it!

Miss Hester's physical education classes learn the fundamentals of basketball.

Enlarged orchestra has exceptional season

Mr. Ruth, conductor of the High Point High School Orchestra, spends many hours preparing and editing music for the orchestra.

Under the direction of Mr. E. Barry Ruth, with the assistance of Miss Virginia Frank, the orchestra had an active and varied year. The orchestra was much larger than in former years and could perform more effectively. Always striving for a "more nearly perfect performance," the orchestra played on many occasions. In the fall, it gave a public concert and also played for the high school Open House. In December the group participated in the presentation of Handel's "The Messiah," with the Tri-City Community Chorus in Leaksville. This program and the trip to Appalachian State Teachers' College were two of the special projects of the year.

Also during the year several of the members were chosen to attend Piedmont Orchestra and All-State Orchestra. The entire group participated in the annual State Music Festival.

Always a booster of school spirit, the marching band of HPHS played a major role in the winning of football laurels for the 1961 season. Under the leadership of Doug Lain, drum major, the band performed at pep rallies and at football games. Directed by Mr. David Carter, the band played for the Homecoming and Christmas parades and had a leading part in the November parade honoring Miss High Point. A high light of the year's activities was the visit to Chapel Hill to take part in the annual University of North Carolina Band Day. At the State Band Contest, in which all members were participants, Dan Whitley and Arlan Howard were chosen to represent High Point High School in a performance of the All-State Band. Other activities of the band included playing for PTA Open House during American Education Week, BIE Day, Schoolmasters' Dinner, and special concerts during the year.

Dance band participates in many activities

Directed by Mr. David Carter, the Commodores, popular dance band of HPHS, contributed much to the musical enjoyment of both school and community. Through regularity of practice, plus unity and teamwork, they demonstrated that good musical quality in rhythm, melody, and harmony can be achieved. They performed for local civic clubs and provided music for teen-age dances. At the annual Talent Show sponsored by the HPHS Student Council, the Commodores accompanied the performers and also played several numbers of their own. The band was enthusiastically received on many occasions. Members of the Commodores included alto saxophones, Arlan Howard and Keith Yokley; tenor saxophones, George Sherman and Larry Creech; baritone saxophone, Bob Epting; trumpets, Tommy Strickland, Charles Southard, Curtis Collins, and Jimmy Johnson; trombones, Herb Dorr, Ken Clark, Cliff Ring, and Benny Farmer; bass, David Lewis, and drums, Jimmy Knight.

The Commodores listen intently as Mr. Carter explains a passage to them.

Boys' Octet achieves musical excellence

The Boys' Octet, an active musical group, found its second year at HPHS both busy and rewarding. Every Monday night these interested boys met, chose their own music, and rehearsed without supervision. Once a month Mrs. Nancy Ferrell, choral director, met with the boys to offer suggestions and to assist them with their work. During the year the Octet, in conjunction with a portion of the A Cappella Choir, participated in several Wednesday evening services broadcast from a local church. Programs for various civic club meetings and other organizations kept the Octet members busy all year, learning new music and striving for their goal of perfection.

The Music Department of High Point High School joined forces to present Handel's "The Messiah" in December.

Skilled choirs present inspiring programs

The A Cappella Choir and the Choralettes united their efforts to produce a sparkling repertoire of music, both popular and sacred, for 1961-62. The groups met daily at second and third periods in the choir room, where they learned songs for their numerous performances, including the PTA Open House in November and the Christmas assembly program. During the year they presented many programs for assemblies and civic groups, sang at numerous church services, and combined with other vocal groups in the presentation of Handel's "The Messiah" at Christmas. In early spring the Choralettes and the Choir gave a concert. At Easter the Choir participated in a special service, and at the close of the year provided music for both the baccalaureate and the graduation exercises. Both groups took part in the District Music Contest and both sent delegates to the Annual Festival Chorus.

Mixed Choruses

The Girls' Chorus and the Mixed Chorus presented several delightful and enjoyable programs during the year. A new organization, the Mixed Chorus was a combination of the Boys' Glee Club, which was in effect last year, and the junior and senior girls who registered for Girls' Chorus, plus a large ber of sophomore girls. The two choruses performed at PTA Open House and at assemblies, presented a spring concert, and took part in the District Contest in April. The Girls' Chorus and the Mixed Chorus joined forces with the Boys Octet, the Choralettes, and the A Cappella Choir to present Handel's "The Messiah" as the Christmas program. Jane Litton served as president of the Girls' Chorus, while David Traynham was president of the Mixed Chorus.

CLASSES . . .

This is our Dr. Scott.

Classes—the real High Point High School. Three different classes were part of our building this year—the mighty seniors, outwardly calm, collected, but inwardly worrying about whether THE college would accept them or whether that super job would come through; the jolly juniors, right in the middle of the heap and happy to be so, no college worries for them—save that for next year, and they know all the tricks!; then, the lowly sophomores, scared of their own shadows but gaining more confidence with each new day. Three classes filled with individualists, but yet one student body, backing our winning football team, cheering on the basketball team, and racking up more honors for HPHS.

Trying the new walk, Ronnie Dennis, Jill Dunivant, and Bob Jackson find that it is just as hard on the feet as the others.

Chemistry lab assistants Doug Shirley and Keith McDowell are two behind-the-scenes workers in our school.

Dr. Scott and Jill Dunivant survey the excavation which precedes the erection of the new wing.

Not wasting a minute of precious time, students study, talk, and eat at the same time.

CLASS OF 1962

Senior Class Officers—Paul McDade, treasurer; Price Marsh, secretary; Mike Harwood, vice-president; Gene Kester, president.

Senior Class Adviser—Miss Frances Haywood.

The Class of 1962, the last to enter HPHS as freshmen, now look back on past years with a sense of accomplishment. With a capable adviser like Miss Haywood, anything was possible. They remember the class meetings in their junior year when they struggled to get their blue class rings. They recall the 1961 football season when the Bison team made the best record in several years. They can never forget the successful Senior Play, "June Wedding," and the triumphant Awards Day. They recall also that members of their class led in the work of clubs and organizations and in the publication of newspaper and yearbook. On graduation day they glance back at the past, realizing that they have added a strong chapter in the story of their Alma Mater.

THE CLASS OF 1963

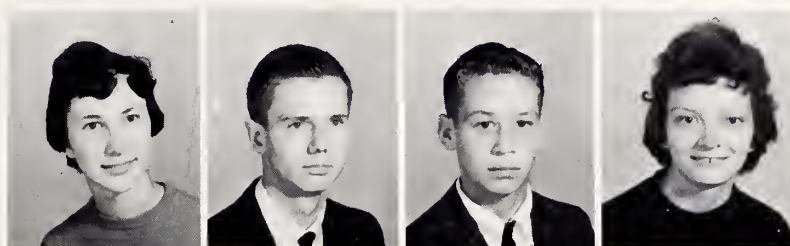

A. J. Simeon—Junior Class Adviser.

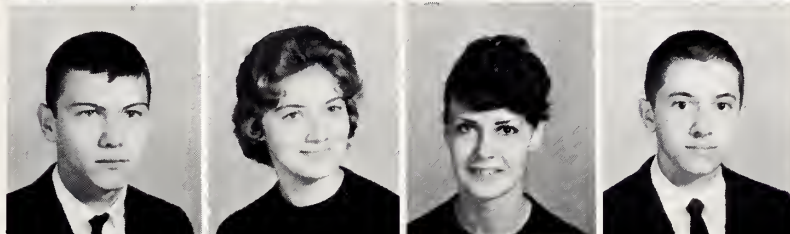

The Junior Class, advised by Mr. Simeon, began another busy year with registration in the fall. At their first class meeting they restored a tradition by selecting red-stoned class rings. The Junior Class play, main project of the class, was presented on November 18 and 19. The play entitled "Midnight" was directed by Miss Eleanor Tapp. The production was quite a success.

Enthusiastic juniors had time for study as well as extra-curricular activities. This was reflected in the various honors and awards received. A part of the class was invited to join the National Beta Club; and at the March induction, several juniors were tapped for membership in the National Honor Society. In the field of publication, several juniors from both newspaper and yearbook groups were chosen for membership in Quill and Scroll. Likewise, juniors were represented in sports honors of the school.

Senior High students dread that long trek back to school after a snow-holiday.

Winter came to High Point High School, and with it came basketball games, more sock hops, Christmas vacation, and mid-term exams.

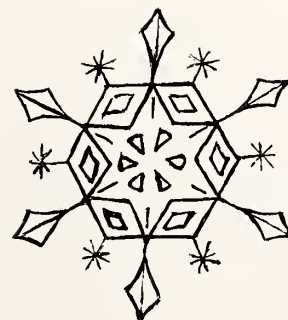

Then that lovely white substance snow—purpose of which was to keep us out of school—came to High Point. All students were thankful that it came in time to delay exams three days to allow more study time.

Club activities consumed much out-of-class time. The Club-of-the-Month competition was great. Many clubs worked on special Christmas projects. Junior Civinettes decorated all the doors in the building, and the NHS sent CARE packages. NFL debaters were chosen in January, and they began intensive practice.

After exams, HPHS quieted down only for a short breathing spell. Seniors looked forward to their special pre-graduation activities, and underclassmen just looked forward to a summer of much-needed rest.

Winter—another season of “That Wonderful Year” that went by too fast!

A year in review is the 1962 Pemican

The theme of the 1962 Pemican utilized the seasons—fall, winter, and spring—to depict the events of the school year. Chosen early in the year, editor Ruth Folger planned the theme, chose the cover, directed the picture schedule, selected the pictures, laid out pages, and co-ordinated the work of the publication.

Associate editor Jill Dunivant directed the yearbook copy and had charge of the indices. Robert Jackson served as art editor, and Frieda Holt, picture editor, supervised the massive task of picture identification. Jane Jackson served as business manager, and Miss Louise Tapp was adviser to both business and editorial groups.

The 1961 Pemican was awarded All-American honors by the National Scholastic Press association, and an A rating by the National School Yearbook association, a second honor by the North Carolina Scholastic Press Institute, and a first place rating by the Columbia Scholastic Press association.

Pointers record

Advised by Miss Eleanor C. Young, the editorial staff of the Pointer turned out ten issues of the newspaper for 1961-62. From newsday to deadline, the staff worked, glean- ing and editing news, securing interviews, writing sports and feature stories, taking pictures, and composing editorials. As a result, the students and faculty were furnish- ed with the latest happenings at High Point High School. Stephanie Teague, editor-in- chief, and Shela Turpin, associate editor, led the staff. Other assistants were Karen Aus- tin, feature editor, and Allison Shivers, sports editor.

Members of the business staff sold adver- tising to uphold the financial end of the pap- er. Lynette Rice served as business manager, and Mrs. Lyda P. Sowers was business adviser. Circulation manager was Tommy Daugherty, and chief bookkeeper was Joyce Medina.

The Pointer was awarded a First Place Honor rating by the National Scholastic Press Association. It also held membership in the International Quill and Scroll society.

Led by Jimmy Hart, Clark Dillon, and Linda Tunstall, and advised by Miss Hunter, the Student Council began the year by acting as guides and helpers in the sophomore orientation program. They also distributed books to teachers' rooms and performed innumerable tasks in the General Office. Next they printed name cards for teachers' doors, provided a student telephone, and served refreshments to teachers on the first day of school. They directed a Teacher Appreciation Day and sent birthday and Christmas cards to faculty members. They provided a "Thought for the Day" for classrooms and conducted a Club-of-the-Month program. They sent baskets of fruit to visiting ball teams and sponsored sock hops. To finance their projects, SC sold book covers, pennants, and booster pins. In addition, they sponsored the annual Talent Show.

During the year SC sent delegates to the state SC congress, the State SC workshop, the National Leadership Training Conference, Denver, Colorado, and the National Association of Student Councils, Oklahoma City.

Beta Club recognizes achievement

Beta Club Officers: Linda Slate, President; Travis Wright, Vice-president; Betsy Gray, Treasurer; Frieda Holt, Secretary.

Beta Club members, advised by Miss Geneva Highfill, maintained high scholastic averages and at the same time served the school through many specific projects. In co-operation with the National Honor Society, the Beta Club sponsored College Day in November. On BIE Day, several members served as guides for the teachers' tour of the Southern Furniture Exposition Building. In the spring the group gave a Beta Club tea, inviting teachers as well as special guests. Under the supervision of the Finance committee, Beta members planned and executed a money-raising project to finance the club's activities for the year. In April, seventeen members of the organization went as official delegates to the state convention in Raleigh. Other members also attended, and all returned from the convention with new inspiration and new ideas for Beta Club work.

French is living language to club members

French Club Officers: Mary Ann Snyder, Secretary; Shela Turpin, Vice-president; Betsy Gray, President.

The French Club, a cultural club open only to those students who had completed at least one year of study in French, planned projects that made this year a busy one. Advised by Miss Mary McDavid, the members conducted their meetings in French. Their activities included learning songs, playing games, presenting dramatic skits, working crossword puzzles, reciting poems, and learning French Christmas carols. In December the members went on caroling expeditions, singing their carols in French. On Language Day members of the French Club assisted students of other foreign languages in presenting an effective program. The activity that helped to enliven the study of French most of all was the club's requirement that each member carry on an active correspondence with a student in France. Highlight of the year was the annual French banquet at the final meeting of the club. Members prepared and served the meal according to French recipes and styles.

FBLA prepares members for future careers

Under the guidance of Miss Sandra Medford, the Future Business Leaders of America put their skills to use as they assisted teachers at HPHS with cutting stencils, mimeographing tests, and typing study outlines. They also rendered valuable service to the student association by typing and duplicating materials. They kept the duplicating room in Tower One open for use and always in A-1 condition. At their regular meetings on the first Tuesday of each month, the FBLA studied office mechanisms and practices and learned more about opportunities in business careers. Through careful study and practical application, they sought to prepare themselves for the business world and later life. In March the FBLA sent delegates to the state convention held in Durham.

FBLA officers for 1951-62 were Shirley McGuire, President; Le Monde Price, Vice-President; Gloria Jester, Secretary; and Brenda Riley, Treasurer.

FBLA Officers: seated—Maureen Boyles, Reporter; Brenda Riley, Treasurer; Le Monde Price, Vice-president; standing—Delores Harris, Historian; Shirley McGuire, President; Gloria Jester, Secretary.

The Future Homemakers of America, advised by Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Griffin, sought to be "builders of homes where truth, love, security, and faith are realities" by engaging in many projects during the year. They studied child care and development, and under the leadership of Judy Gilliam, president, planned and executed a party for underprivileged children and a Mother-Daughter banquet.

During the 1961-62 year, Stephanie Teague served as parliamentarian of the Guilford County FHA, and Sharon Frazier won the State Homemaker Degree—an award which can come only to a student who has previously won the Junior Degree and the Chapter Degree in homemaking. Sharon's work conformed well to the standard of excellence set up by the State FHA Adviser. FHA officers, delegates, and advisers attended the District FHA convention in November and the State Convention in early spring.

Sponsored by Mrs. Martha Rogers, the Future Teachers of America worked closely with the local unit of the North Carolina Education Association. The FTA sent five representatives to the district teachers' meeting in Winston-Salem. During National Education Week, members of the FTA decorated a bulletin board and served as guides and ushers at Open House. They also promoted teaching as a career during National Career Week. Future teachers were given an opportunity to gain more knowledge about classroom teaching by filling in for elementary teachers during emergencies. Programs featuring guest speakers and films emphasized the importance and benefits of teaching.

FTA Officers: Sherry Byerly, Historian; Becky Edwards, Treasurer; Pat Moser, Secretary; Susan Horney, Vice-president; Marion Diack, President.

Hi-Y Club builds character

Under the direction of Adviser Murphy Osborne, the local members of the Hi-Y met each week at the YMCA building and carried out several worthwhile projects during the year 1961-62. The members sponsored a Pep Club bus and sold Christmas trees and candy to support their World Service Project. Another important activity of the club was participation in the Inter-club Athletic program for clubs of High Point and the surrounding area. Ten delegates attended the Interstate Carolina Convention of Hi-Y, held in Charlotte, December 8-10. Mike Harwood presided over the convention, and Harry Lester served as treasurer. High Point delegates also attended the district convention in Albemarle. Again Mike Harwood served as president. Other conventions attended by local members were the Interstate Council Convention and the Blue Ridge Conference.

Hi-Y Club Officers: Windley Dunbar, W. S. C.; Harry Lester, Secretary; Randy Burge, Chaplain; Doug Shirley, Treasurer; Ronnie Dennis, Vice-president; Mike Harwood, President.

Library Club encourages interest in books

To achieve their purpose, "to attract a high type of student to the field of library service and to recruit future librarians," the Library Club engaged in a number of worthwhile pursuits. With Mrs. Nancy Poston as their guide, the club members met twice a month, mended books, conducted a candy sale, and participated in the celebration of Book Week and National Library Week.

Each day club members served at the circulation desk, while others assisted students in finding references and books for required reading. As each Library Club member rendered these services to the school, he studied the field of library science as a possible future career.

Official delegates attending the State Convention in Asheville were Libby Surratt and Carol York. A highlight of the trip was a visit to the home of the late Thomas Wolfe and an interview with his brother, Frank Wolfe. Other members attending the convention were Linda Prather, Ray Hester, Deloris Harriss, Sylvia Campen, and Frances Harmon.

Library Club Officers; Ann Pirtle, Vice-President; Brenda Dailey, Secretary-treasurer; Cookie Jones, Reporter; Ray Hester, President.

Junior Civinettes serve school, community

Junior Civinettes Officers: Tully Crockett, Chaplain; Tobie Barrett, Program Chairman; Martha Dover, Secretary; Kay Hedrick, Vice-president; Price Marsh, President.

Junior Civinettes, under the direction of Miss Mary Clement, carried out many service projects during 1961-62. One of their services was giving cokes to visiting cheerleader squads; another service was conducting the Thanksgiving Clothing Drive to help needy families. They decorated each home-room door at HPHS to spread Christmas cheer throughout the school. Every evening of the week before Christmas, a committee presented refreshments to Mr. Ring, night-watchman at HPHS. To beautify the campus, the girls planted tulips of many colors around the cafeteria. In co-operation with the Civitans, the Juniors Civinettes sold fruit cakes in December to help finance their activities. High light of the year was the state Civitan convention held in Asheville.

An organization new to HPHS this year was the Safe Teen Drivers' Club. Advised by Mr. Wade E. Marlette, the club set forth its purpose as the promotion of safe driving habits among teen-agers. To interest other students in their purpose, members of the Safe Teen Drivers' Club sponsored a booth at the Health and Safety Fair. One of the most important projects of the year was the sponsorship of the Rodeo. To raise money for their activities, they conducted several car washes and sold litter buckets. Through the use of posters, slogans, and other eye-catching devices, they carried on a large safety campaign. Always they sought to develop good manners and a strong sense of responsibility in driving whether on city streets or on the open highway.

standards in school and home life

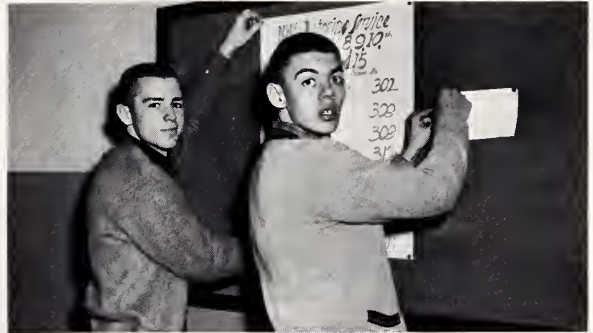

The Junior Civitans lived up to their motto, "Builders of Good Citizenship", as they entered into an active program for the year. Sponsored by the local Civitan Club and advised by Mr. Lindley Butler, the members met every Wednesday night to plan their activities. In the fall they joined forces with the Key Club to help beautify the campus by planting grass and by assisting in a clean-up campaign. They donated two bulletin boards to the school, participated in the Civitan fruit cake sale, helped with the city-wide Hallowe'en party at the shopping center, and sponsored a sock hop in the school gymnasium.

In October the Junior Civitans sent Jimmy Adams, Tommy Smith, and Steve Weavil as delegates to the Civitan State Council held in Gastonia. In the spring a majority of the members attended the state Civitan convention which took place in Asheville.

Officers for 1961-62 were Steve Weavil, president; Buster Hill, vice-president; Douglas Lain, secretary; and Gary Melnikov, treasurer.

JCL strives 'to hand on the torch of

The Junior Classical League reorganized last year with the purpose of promoting a better understanding of the Latin language and of keeping alive the torch of classical learning in America. Advised by Miss Louise Hunter, the club was composed of those students who had completed, or who were pursuing, a course in second-year Latin. All students who had previously served as slaves became masters, and the new members were slaves. The group met twice a month on Wednesdays.

The first social event of the year was the induction of new members into the League. During the year the members studied Roman history and religion, learned Roman songs, and produced Roman plays. They also studied the customs of the Romans, with emphasis on food and clothing. Near the close of the year they served in ancient style a banquet of typical Roman food. In early spring several delegates, accompanied by their adviser Miss Hunter, attended the state convention of the Junior Classical League at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Junior Red Cross Aides felt keenly the honor of being selected as members of the group, but with the honor came much hard work and responsibility. The purpose of the organization was to provide service to the hospital or any other institution which might need help. To fulfill this purpose, the girls gave up leisure time to contribute this service to their community. The program also gave the girls an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the work of the institution.

Mrs. Chan Pegram, Jr., adviser of the group, outlined the program at the December meeting. The girls then received training from an experienced Red Cross member and worked at their assigned tasks. There were no specific projects, for the girls worked continuously the year round on one large project—giving service to those in need.

JRC Aide Dee Dee Deyo enjoys working at the hospital, especially when the patients are as appreciative as Yvonne Womble.

as they serve the community

Junior Red Cross members were as busy as the Junior Red Cross Aides with useful and varied projects. Advised by Miss Louisa Hatch, the chapter met every third week for the purpose of planning its program to help young people in the community and around the world. Three of the projects for the year were helping with the annual Red Cross Drive, assisting with the blood-mobile, and filling the ever-popular gift chests to be sent to under-privileged persons overseas. A chapter-wide convention was held in High Point during the year for the officers of the various chapters. Ideas were exchanged, and plans were made to send one member to a Junior Red Cross summer camp to receive leadership training in community work. Junior Red Cross members worked enthusiastically, realizing that their program of service encouraged better relationships between this nation and other countries of the world.

selling athletic programs, planting grass

“To serve the school and community and to prepare for useful citizenship” was the slogan that spurred the Key Club members to useful activity during 1961-62. Advised by Mr. Eulis Bays and Mr. J. Don Myers, the boys took over the raising and lowering of the flag each day, sold programs at football and basketball games to acquaint fans with the names of the players, and conducted a parking service on College Day and Homecoming Day. Other service projects included planting grass on the campus in co-operation with the Junior Civitans, serving on the fire drill committee, and packing Christmas fruit baskets for the needy. To help finance these projects, the Key Club conducted car washes and sold honey and peanut brittle. In recognition of service work done, the Key Club was selected by the Upper House of the Student Council as the Club-of-the-Month for November.

Members of Masque and Gavel, national honor society for speech improvement, strove to maintain the purpose of their organization by taking part in the International Speech Festival and by submitting a scrapbook of activities in the national competition. Advised by Miss Goodman, Masque and Gavel was ever mindful of the organization's purpose to recognize and promote significant achievement in the area of speech and to sponsor a better relationship between high school and community. The members entered a float in the Homecoming contest and assisted students in speech classes with plans for a field trip to Washington, D. C. At their regular twice-a-month meetings they carried out activities and projects designed to assist students in raising standards of speech. Members also took part in various speaking contests.

Monogram Club recognizes lettermen

Advised by Coach Simeon, the Monogram Club sought in various ways to carry out the purpose of their organization—"to help develop at High Point School the highest athletic standards on a foundation of true sportsmanship; and to create a closer bond of fellowship and loyalty between lettermen." These boys, who had earned their letters in a varsity sport, carried on a program of mutual helpfulness in which they tried to encourage boys in their school work and to set an example of good sportsmanship and conduct. At all times they worked in close co-operation with the Athletic Department.

To fill their treasury, the lettermen sold booster tags, sweat shirts, pennants, and car stickers. The money earned in these ways enabled them to place a water-fountain in the gymnasium and to establish a scholarship.

Students chosen for membership in Quill and Scroll, international honor society of high school journalists, were selected on the basis of scholarship, citizenship, and meritorious work on the staff of either the Pemican or the Pointer. Quill and Scroll was organized at HPHS in 1957 to encourage and reward individual achievement in school publications. Pemican staff members recommended and accepted into the organization were Ruth Folger, Jill Dunivant, Frieda Holt, Patsy Leonard, and Bob Jackson. Those recommended and accepted from the Pointer staff were Stephanie Teague, Shela Turpin, Sally Osborn, Tommy Daugherty, and Allison Shivers. Each member had worked two years with either the business or editorial groups of school publications. Sponsors were Miss Eleanor Young, Pointer editorial adviser, and Miss Louise Tapp, Pemican adviser.

Advised by Mrs. Rachel Roberts, the National Forensic League worked on many speech projects during the year. As a result of their work, they were able to participate in two practice congresses, three preliminary congresses, two NFL speech tournaments, the Wake Forest Speech Festival, and the North Carolina Debating Council. In October delegates attended the NFL Congress at Irwin, Tennessee, where Dan Stoddard of High Point presided over the House. In December the HPHS delegation was host to the final preliminary NFL Congress of the Carolina District. Mrs. Roberts, head of the entire Carolina district, which includes North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, and part of West Virginia, had general supervision of the meeting. The High Point chapter was recognized as the chapter ranking highest in number of points, as stated in the NFL Rostrum, a national NFL magazine. HPHS delegates receiving the Degree of Distinction included Karen Austin, Ronnie Taylor, Eddie Lewis, and Irwin Coffield.

Outstanding scholarship, leadership, service, and character were qualities possessed by the students who were inducted into the National Honor Society. Two tapping ceremonies took place—one in the fall and one in the spring—and a reception was held afterward in the living room of the Home Economics department, honoring new members and their parents. Under the direction of Miss Mourane, the members moved forward to fulfill their ideal of service. They began the year by presenting blotters, pencils, and rulers to each teacher, and by giving a coke party for teachers. They continued their projects by selling calling cards and stationery, by sending a bulletin to old NHS members informing them of the activities of the school, and by co-sponsoring College Day. Keith McDowell and Jill Dunivant were delegates to the state NHS convention held at Chapel Hill.

Members of the Radio Club strove to help students interested in amateur radio by increasing their operating efficiency and technical knowledge of radio. Advised by Mr. Sheffield, the members made plans to work with Civil Defense authorities in case of emergency and to operate the equipment in any kind of disaster, such as floods or fall-out. The group had a 17-25 output on A.M. Their equipment—an HT-37 Transmitter and an SX-111 receiver—was licensed by the FCC with the call sign W4SQK. Meetings were held on Tuesday afternoons in the club room.

In addition to their regular duties, the Radio Club members had the responsibility of setting up microphones for assemblies and operating the public address system. They also made talks to the boys of the junior high schools for the purpose of awakening interest in amateur radio work and recruiting new members.

Radio Club Officers: top to bottom—Jimmy Knight, President; Dan Whitley, Vice-president; Charles Hayworth, Secretary.

Members of the Science Club, advised by Mrs. Dockery, were stimulated to greater activity by new developments in science. This year they held meetings on first and third Tuesdays, heard lectures by scientists, studied Civil Defense information, and sponsored the Science Fair. During the year the club received from Civil Defense authorities a Radiological Detection Instrument kit to check radiation. They learned to operate this equipment and to teach demonstration lessons to science classes. The equipment included a Geiger counter and a radiological dosimeter.

The Science Fair, main project of the Science Club, received entries from many students of HPHS as well as from two junior high schools. Winners in the District Science Fair were Carol Ann Bryden, Dickie Blackwell, Allison Shivers, and Mike Waggoner. The winning projects were placed in competition in the State Science Fair, where Dickie Blackwell won further honors.

Spanish Club members developed greater appreciation of Spanish culture and customs by engaging in various activities. With Miss Joseph as adviser, the club entered a float in the Homecoming contest, conducted a carol-singing expedition at Christmas, and carried out many learning projects during the year. Regular meetings were held on Monday night of each week. Members divided their programs so that they could further their study of Spanish and at the same time enjoy a period of entertainment and fun. They conducted a campaign to encourage ambitious sophomores to undertake the study of Spanish as their foreign language. During National Language Week, the members joined with the French Club and the JCL in presenting skits, giving devotions, designing costumes, and preparing menus—all designed to show the influence of ancient and modern languages upon American life.

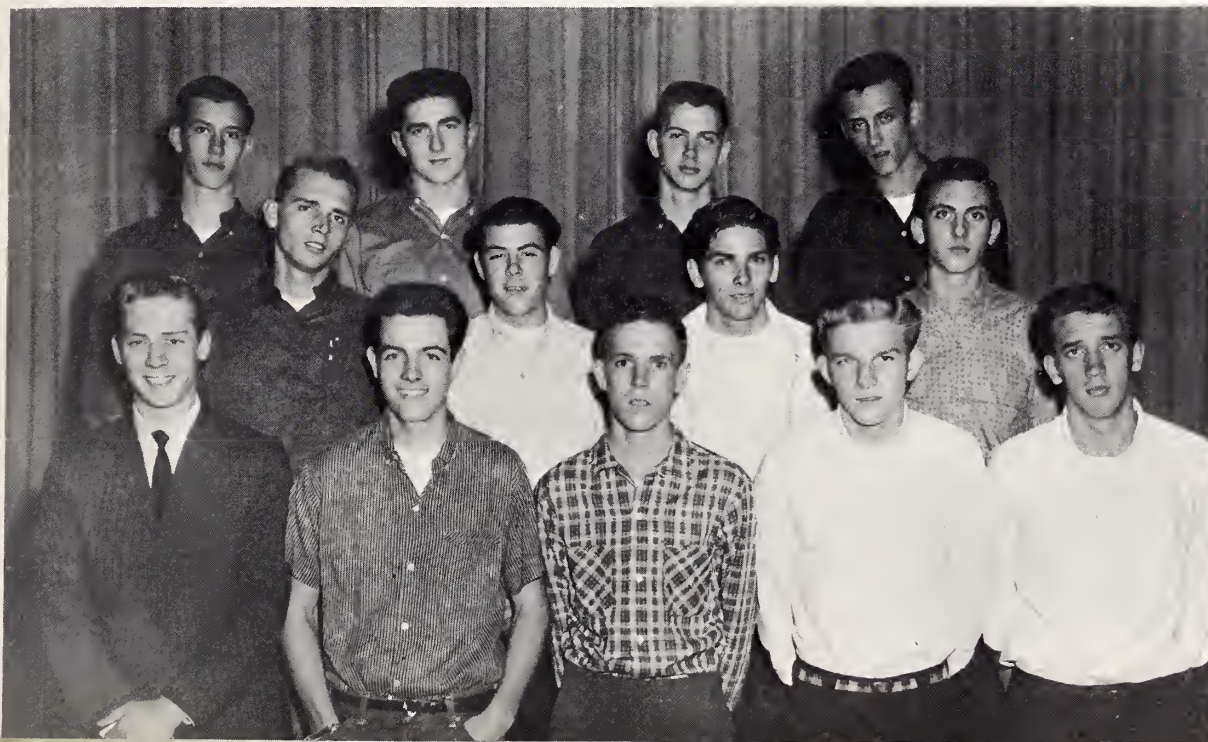

Vocational Industrial Club Officers: Jimmy Martin, President; Joe Rising, Secretary; Hugh Norman, Treasurer.

The Vocational-Industrial Club, now in its second year of activity, rendered many services to the school and community. Advised by Mr. W. K. Whitesell, the boys worked to produce artistic pieces of furniture for their homes. Along with their regular work, they entered a float for the Homecoming contest, mended broken toys for the Christmas Cheer Fund, made and presented four concrete benches for the campus, and prepared stage scenery for the class plays and other dramatic productions.

At the state convention held in Raleigh, VIC was well represented by its delegates, Phil Teer, Jimmy Martin, Barry Wray, and Bobby Hedrick. The club's scrapbook received highest recognition, and the club itself won a gold citation as Outstanding Club in the state. Phil Teer was awarded a plaque for the most outstanding club activity based on individual work. In the national contest Phil won a cash prize for excellent achievement in VIC work.

Visiting orphanages and old-age homes, making tray favors, and addressing Easter Seal envelopes proved to be inspiring and satisfying service projects for the different Y-Teen groups. Yuletide activities included preparing boxes for needy families, decorating Christmas trees for hospitals and rest homes, and going on caroling expeditions. Football team has enviable season 1961 was a hard-fought and successful year for the Bison. A fighting team, the finest in ten years, tasted a big portion of victory made bitter by only one defeat. HPHS placed second in the Central 4-A Conference. The one loss, handed the locals by Greensboro Senior High combined with one Conference tie, kept the revitalized Bison from placing first.

New line coach Joe Hipps molded a defensive unit comparable to any other in the State, and the aggressive backfield quartet consistently sent men on long, breath-taking runs. Senior half-back Jimmy Simeon was named to the National High School All-American All-Star Football Team for 1961.

Reidsville: The 1961 Bison clicked from the beginning to defeat Reidsville 24-6. Linemen dispelled all doubts of their ability as they held the Golden Lions to a new gain of 34 yards, compared to an impressive 217 yards for HPHS. All four of High Point's touchdowns came in the first half.

Gray: The Grayhounds of Gray High got no closer to a score than the High Point 20 yardline as the locals blanked the visitors 13-0. The first half was unimpressive, but the Bison roared out of the dressing-rooms after half-time, and never stopped rolling. J. Simeon made both HPHS touchdowns behind effective blocking. Defensive standouts were M. Murrow, R. Haywood, and B. Perryman.

Durham: Nobody scored. The Durham Bulldogs could not get past a single-minded Bison defense, and High Point's usually sharp offense could not find the range, so both teams left the field exactly as they went on—with a 0-0 score. Strong points of the Bison line were J. Howington, E. James, M. Murrow, and B. Sheffield.

Reynolds: For the second week in a row, the High Point Black Bison engaged in 48 minutes of hard gridiron work to no avail as the Bison and R. J. Reynolds fought to a 7-7 draw. HPHS struck first when E. James blasted into the end zone after a drive downfield by J. Simeon and M. Murrow. Reynolds drove back down the field in the same quarter, and a pass from B. Brockwell made the score 7-7.

Lexington: A fired-up Bison team threw cold water on a Lexington Homecoming party by downing the Yellow Jackets 27-0. Bison touch downs came in the first and second quarters in the first half, and in the closing minutes of the game. M. Murrow was offensive giant for the night, running one touchdown, passing for another, and returning punts that led to two others.

Salisbury: The Bison defensive unit gave up their third touchdown of the season to Salisbury, and then got down to business, completely bottling up the Yellow Jackets for the rest of the game. The early Jacket touchdown also served to rile the Bison backfield, as that unit came back to score four touchdowns in the first half and one in the third quarter for a total of 31 impressive points to Salisbury's 7.

Page: The locals engaged in a see-saw battle with the persistent Page Pirates that ended with an HP HS victory of 26-19. The Bison and the Pirates traded blows and touchdowns for the entire game, until the last six seconds when J. Simeon broke loose for 18 yards and a touchdown. The Bison led all the way, but were never more than seven points ahead of the Pirates.

Harding: HP HS and Charlotte Harding battled to a 20-20 deadlock, the third of the season for the locals. In a position they rarely faced, the Bison had to come from behind to make the tie. A pass from L. Sherrill to C. Yokley with 30 seconds remaining in the game gained the deadlock.

Greensboro: An eight-game undefeated streak came to a painful end for HP HS in a 19-14 heartbreaker with Greensboro Senior High's Whirlies. The Bison froze in the first half as the Whirlies took a 12-0 lead. After intermission, however, the Bison fought with unmistakable courage to lead 14-12. After another Whirlie score which made it 19-14, J. Simeon galloped 68 yards on a run that would have meant victory for HPHS had it not been called back on a penalty.

Burlington: In the Finale, the Black Bison showed just what they were made of as they routed Burlington 25-7. The local defensemen, fabled in the Conference, held the Bulldogs to only one score in the first quarter. The lethal High Point offense exploded on long runs and long passes that left the Bulldogs open-mouthed. Scoring touchdowns in the final game were J. Simeon, C. Yokley, and E. James.

Halfback Jimmy Simeon makes a sharp turn to avoid Salisbury opposition.

Coach Joe Don Myers led the Junior Varsity football team to an undefeated season this year. The Baby Bison played seven Junior Varsity teams—namely, Greensboro, Reynolds, Gray, Page, Burlington, and Asheboro (two games). In the last game of the season, the JV team defeated Rankin High School's varsity squad 39-0.

The whole JV team was outstanding, but the defense unit was especially good. During the season the High Point Junior Varsity scored more than 200 points. The thirty-three JV players offered High Point High hope of more victorious varsity squads in the future.

Under the direction of Coach Tony Simeon, the '62 Bison cagers had amassed a 6-5 overall record at Pemican press time. Rebounding proved to be the strongest single factor in Bison play, but at times the Bison scoring was impressive.

Raleigh: On their first outing of the season, the Bison met a very strong and tall Raleigh team. With the advantage of a home court, the Capitols edged out the Bison by a score of 68-62. Butch Wolfe scored 16 points to lead in that department as the Bison used five iron men.

Thomasville: Turning in outstanding performances, Butch Wolfe and Lee Sherrill led the Bison to their initial victory of the season by a score of 53-45. Wolfe again led in scoring with 14 points and collected 12 rebounds, while Sherrill added 13 points and 13 rebounds.

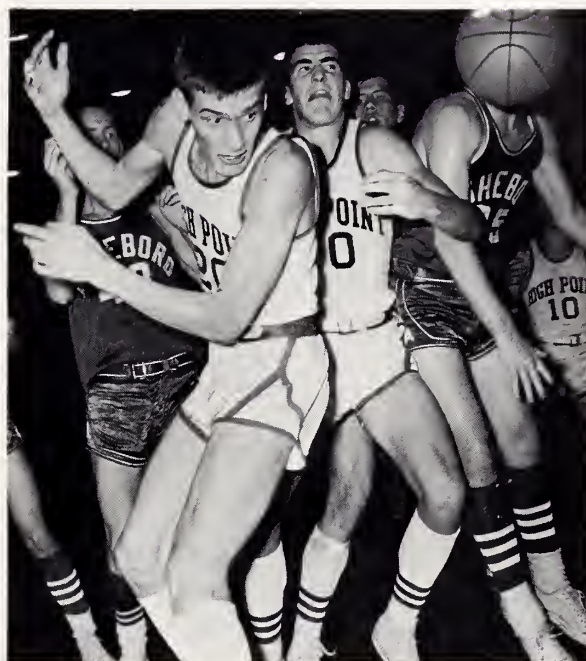

Raleigh: The Bison revenged an earlier defeat by Raleigh, trouncing the Capitols 62-52. Butch Wolfe tossed 21 points through the hoop to lead the scorers.

Gray: Returning to the court after the Christmas lay-off, the Bison were stopped by a bunch of red-hot shooters from Gray of Winston-Salem by a score of 45-42. The Bison committed too many mistakes, especially on bad passes, and this proved to be the margin of victory for the Grayhounds. Wolfe led the Bison scoring with 19.

Lynchburg: Inaccuracy from the free-throw line proved very costly to the Bison as they yielded a 42-36 decision to E. C. Glass of Lynchburg. The Bison led at half-time, but their offense would not click in the second half. Lee Sherrill led all scorers with 16.

Page: The Bison finally hit the winning trail again as they conquered Page High School in a thrilling comeback victory. Page led by 7 with 4:00 left to play when High Point hit an explosive scoring streak. Gil Ford's outside shooting and Ken Rich's 14 points were big factors in the 53-44 Central 4-A Conference victory.

Reynolds: The R. J. Reynolds Black Demons were run completely out of the local gym as the Bison romped to a 4-A Conference victory of 66-42. It was a team effort on the part of the hot Bison as co-captain Rich, Lee Sherrill, and Wolfe led in scoring.

Wilmington: Gil Ford and Jim Simeon led the Bison to an exciting 53-52 overtime win against Wilmington. Sharp-shooting Ford poured 20 points through the nets, while playmaker Simeon remained cool and calm under pressure and made four clutch free throws to insure a Bison victory.

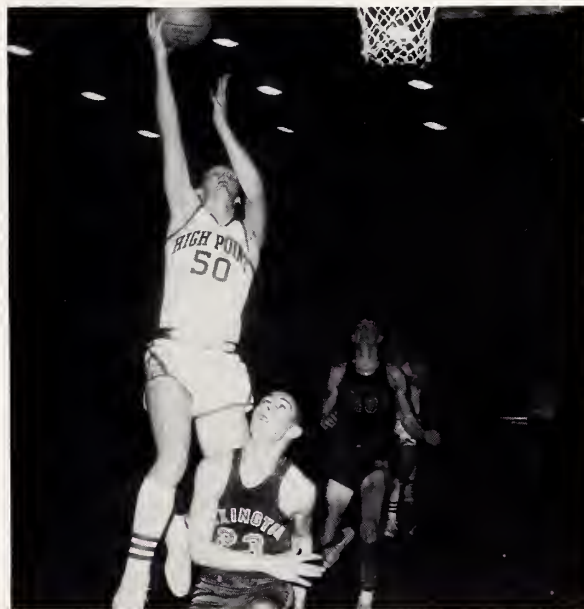

Burlington: In a wild and woolly contest the Bison lost to Burlington in a game marred by numerous personal fouls. With only 29 seconds left, one point separated the two teams but Burlington hit five straight points to provide the 59-52 margin. Leading scorer was Butch Wolfe with 19.

Lexington: In one of the most exciting games of the season, the Bison battled a highly underestimated Lexington team and barely emerged with a 49-45 conference victory. Two starters out with flu, the Bison had to come from behind to chalk up a victory over the scrappy Yellow Jackets. Top man for High Point was Butch Wolfe with 16, followed by Lee Sherrill with 13.

Salisbury: Having trouble hitting from the floor, the Bison yielded to Salisbury 41-36 in a conference game. In achieving the victory, Salisbury used the fast break very effectively and took advantage of the bad shooting of the Bison. Ford led with 12 points.

Practice makes perfect.

Under the direction of Coach Joe Myers, the Junior Varsity basketball team was a much improved team as compared to last year. At Pemican press time the Junior Bison boasted a 6-4 record. Two of the four losses came at the hands of the Seagrove Varsity, while the other two were close games. An outstanding feature in the JV play this year was their ability to come back after trailing at half-time. As the season progressed, the Bison improved greatly on defense and at the same time maintained a good field goal percentage.

The Bison matmen, under the supervision of Coach Herb Hipps, revealed an undefeated record of two wins and one tie at Pemican press time. The grapplers also boasted four undefeated wrestlers: namely, Randy Boggs, Burl Flannery, Gary Honbarrier, and Clifford James.

Comparing this year's team to last year's very successful one, Coach Herb Hipps stated that the team had better balance this year. Also, the mentor said, the new boys were doing a good job so far this season. Newcomers to the team included Trip Sizemore, Van Reames, Mike Meisky, Bill Perryman, Max Murrow, and Larry Tucker. Co-captains for the 1962 wrestlers were Gary Honbarrier and Randy Boggs.

Hi-Y presents trophy for football season

captains; Mike Harwood, Hi-Y president; Joe Don Myers, Jayvee coach.

For outstanding performance during the 1961 football season, the High Point Black Bison football team was presented a trophy by the Hi-Y Club. Accepting the honor on behalf of the victorious grid club were Clifford James and Robert Haywood, co-captains. Being handed only one defeat for the entire season, High Point High placed second in the Central 4-A Conference.

The trophy of recognition for fine play and sportsmanship was presented during the half-time of the High Point-Wilmington basketball game.

An enthusiastic supporter of sportsmanship and team spirit, the local Hi-Y sponsored a pep club bus to the Durham football game, participated in inter-Hi-Y athletic competition, and supported the varied programs in athletics at the YMCA.

Roger Watson, star golf player, realizes that only practice makes for a perfect performance.

Beginning its season in a tournament on April 6 at Alamance Country Club, the Black Bison golf team played a match with Walter Williams High School, Burlington. The team later competed with R. J. Reynolds of Winston-Salem, Boyden High of Salisbury, Lexington High, and Greensboro High, finishing the season with a total of 2023 strokes. Under the direction of Coach Simeon, the team members, Roger Watson, Bill Duke, Steve Jaegar, Wayne Mann, Chalmas Clark, Hugh Wyche, Ray Cooper, and Steve Weavil, were among the ten boys who helped HPHS come in sixth in the season totals.

In the state conference at Chapel Hill, Roger Watson finished sixth in the individual conference with a 470 stroke score. The Bison team finished with a 328 stroke total in the team conference. Roger Watson led with a total of 80, and was followed by Ray Cooper with 81, Steve Jaegar with 83, and Mike Smith with 84.

Spring was alpha and omega. It came suddenly, bringing with it the beginning of life. As we walked along the sidewalk on a cool, sunny morning, we could almost see the trees getting greener and the blossoms turning pinker. Everyone was even friendlier than usual because the invigorating warm air made us feel glad to be living. Spring fever plowed our minds and made us long for the out-of-doors, made us want to be spectators and participators in various spring sports. The Junior-Senior Prom of 1962 was perhaps our first, or for many Seniors, our last. Long-awaited graduation day finally arrived and with it came tears and emotions resulting from contrasting memories.

Homecoming Queen — Judy Teague

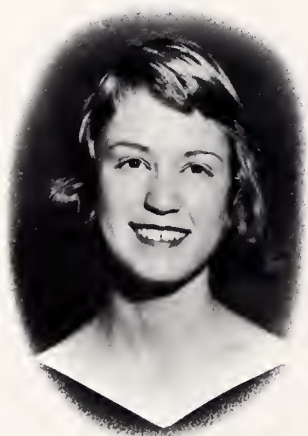

Highlight of the 1961 Homecoming activities on October 13 was the crowning of Homecoming Queen Judy Teague. Escorted by Jimmy Davis, Miss Teague received the crown from High Point's Mayor Carson Stout. Attendants were Maid of Honor, Linda Tunstall, escorted by Ashley Morris; Senior Attendant, Kay Hedrick, escorted by Robert Perry; Junior Attendant, Jane Rankin, escorted by Gene Kester; and Sophomore Attendant, Debby Wall, escorted by Paul Brigman.

Sponsored by the cheerleaders, the Homecoming activities also featured a spectacular parade. Classes and organizations prepared 23 gaily decorated floats for the competition. First place winner in the contest was a float sponsored by the Future Teachers of America.

The football game between High Point and Salisbury drew a large crowd. Spurred on by vigorous cheering and enthusiastic fans, the Black Bison team won over the Yellow Jackets by a score of 31-7. After the game the players were honored at a sock-hop held in the gym.

Miss Haywood discusses college plans with Linda Tunstall, as Clark Dillon and Jim Hart read about requirements for various colleges.

College Day, a yearly project at High Point High School, was sponsored by the National Honor Society and the Beta Club on November 21. They spent much time in preparation and writing letters, which brought forty representatives to discuss college applications, college expenses, and college entrance requirements. Direct discussion with college representatives helped individual students to become acquainted with the colleges and to plan their own courses of study. To supplement these discussions, the colleges distributed pamphlets, catalogues, scholarship applications, and handbooks. During the morning HPHS seniors talked with college representatives, while juniors and sophomores visited them later in the day. Their information and helpful suggestions will aid many students in choosing the right college. Senior members of the National Honor Society and the Beta Club acted as hosts and hostesses to the representatives who were served refreshments. At noon the visitors were entertained at lunch in the faculty dining room of the cafeteria.

"Mardi Gras" was the theme for the 1961 student talent show held in the school auditorium. Sponsored by the Student Council and directed by Doyle Early and Gary Gregg, the show depicted a Mardi Gras street scene followed by a New Orleans night club. Master of ceremonies was Mike Harwood. Supporting music for the entire program was furnished by the Commodore Dance Band. A one-man multi-instrument number was presented by J. R. Maners. The Jokers, an instrument group, combined their talents to present a group of lively instrumental numbers. Sylvia Freeman, a member of the Velveteens in past talent shows, was soloist for the occasion. Another soloist and repeat performer was Judi Justice. Other vocalists who appeared this year for the first time were Oranna Yokely, Dody Heutin, and Roger Butler. Group singers featured on the program were the Boys' Octet and two male trios, the Echoes and the Reys. An original dance routine was performed by Dana Gibson. Novelty numbers were presented by the Toasters, a pantomime group, and by seven senior girls under the name of the Untouchables.

The Toasters, Sally Drake, Janice Lewis, Ann Tinsley, and Rosaline Roach, capture the audience with their pantomime of "Wait a Minute."

An unexpected chain of events began with a New Year's party and treasure hunt when the Junior class presented the mystery comedy "Midnight" on November 17 and 18 under the direction of Miss Eleanor Tapp.

The conflict began when Grandpa David Greenwood died, leaving in his house a secret room with contents known only to characters Joe Howard (played by Frank Fairchild) and Hugh Nichols (played by Joey Rowe). A series of mystifying, but humorous events followed and led up to an unexpected ending.

In addition to Fairchild and Rowe, other students with leading roles in the production were Betsey Price and Carole Norman as Claire Greenwood; Bob Jackson as Bob Morris; Eugenia Monroe and Gail Leonard as Julia Greenwood; and Ronnie Taylor as Samuel Hardman. Stage manager was Richard Helm.

"June Wedding," a comedy in three acts, was presented by the Senior class on February 9 and 10. The play was directed by Miss Goodman.

The action centered around the Perry family at the time of Linda Perry's (Marcia Holder, Susanna Seyk) marriage to Gordon Gavin (Rodger Franklin, Nick Fountain). Doubts arose when Dandy Perry (Carolyn Culler, Sandra Cullom), Linda's young sister, got the idea that Gordon did not really love Linda. Dandy believed Gordon loved Claudia (Judy Hodge, Koweta Allgood), Linda's bridesmaid. Situations that threatened the marriage began to explode. Trouble mounted into a hilarious climax complicated by the four parents: Professor Gavin (Larry Potts, Rickey Bell) and Mrs. Gavin (Marion Diack); Mr. Perry (Jack Oldham, Steve Hyman) and Mrs. Perry (Dorothy Lester, Brenda Dockery).

These sophomores "could have danced all night."

The Junior-Senior Prom, featuring the theme "Aloha", was a gala event of the spring of 1961. Upperclassmen committee members transformed the old gymnasium into a dreamy Hawaiian world. A canvas drop showing palm trees, water, and sand was the focal point of the decorations. Spotlights in various colors accented the scenes along the walls, and pineapple centerpieces were used as table decorations. Couples danced to music under a blue Hawaiian sky.

"Some Enchanted Evening," theme of the Sophomore Prom, was what its name implied. An old Southern plantation scene provided a center of interest for the decorations. Spanish moss hanging from the ceiling added atmosphere to the occasion. To the music of the Commodores, sophomores danced the evening through, storing up happy memories of their first high school dance.

Douglas Lain and Scott Hester put the finishing touches on decorations for the Sophomore prom.

Fourteen capable students contributed their time and their services to the work of the General Office during the year. They performed various tasks such as running errands, filing information, answering the telephone, sorting the daily mail, unpacking and stamping books, and keeping the book-room in A-1 condition. Supervised by Mrs. Johnsie Jackson and Mrs. Doris Teague, the staff members added greatly to the smoothness and efficiency of the General Office. At the same time they received valuable training for the business world.

Assistants in the Dean's Office proved themselves indispensable aides as they issued tardy slips, helped with attendance records, wrote check-outs, ran errands, answered the telephone, filed information, typed the daily bulletin, and assisted with the duties of the clinic. The staff included twenty girls who were selected from recommendations of teachers. They, as well as many other volunteer helpers around HPHS, performed valuable services throughout the year.

Every day 547 students boarded the familiar orange school buses and rode to and from the different schools in High Point. Dependable student bus drivers transported seven buses full of lively riders to Cloverdale and Northwood elementary schools as well as to Northeast Junior High, Ferndale Junior High, and Senior High.

The student bus drivers met every day in the General Office for conferences with their advisers, Mrs. Jackson and Dr. Scott. They made careful reports and accepted an adult responsibility as part of the North Carolina student bus driver organization. The student bus drivers, as well as many other helpers around HPHS, rendered valuable service to the school each day.

Typing tests, running off stencils, making study outlines, and mimeographing thousands of sheets—these duties kept student secretaries busy during their work periods, and even after school. Under the supervision of Miss Sandra Medford, these selected members of the Future Business Leaders of America rendered invaluable service to faculty members as well as to organizations. During the year, the secretaries typed and duplicated tests and miscellaneous items in an estimated 50,000 sheets representing 1000 working hours. In addition, they spent many hours on projects related to future business careers.

Three students worked in the cafeteria as assistants in washing dishes and cleaning trays. Bill Perryman served as cashier during both lunch periods. In payment each received his lunch. The students were supervised by Mrs. Jack Dillard, cafeteria director.

Store staff aids school by selling supplies

Bob Jackson chats with store helpers, Susie Slack and Janice Frazier.

At the school store, presided over by Mrs. Dorothy Whitesell, workers cut coupons, took inventory, made lists of goods needed, and waited on the long lines of customers that came to the store each morning. The store was open from 8:40 in the morning until 3:30 in the afternoon. Two girls assisted at each class period of the day, volunteering their study time to be of service to the school. Through the process of selling school supplies, the girls received valuable experience and sales training and also rendered a helpful service to their fellow students. Besides keeping the store clean and in order, the girls had a smile and cheerful word for everyone. They, as well as many other volunteer workers around HPHS, contributed greatly to the daily efficiency of the school.

Store clerks for 1961-62 included the following: Louise Richardson, Donna Williams, Martha Dover, Anne Harvey, Linda Hodgins, Frankie Clinard, Georganna Ritchie, Elizabeth Higgins, Mary Neil Anderson, Nickie Sue Yow, Helen Hutto, Susie Slack, Janice Frazier, Miggie Rogers, and Joyce Ellington.

Students assist faculty members

Radio station WHPS, operating at 89.3 megacycles, offered an excellent opportunity for boys interested in radio electronics to apply their knowledge. During each school day, WHPS broadcasted music chosen by the radio staff. Senior High, one of the few schools in the state to have its own station, maintained high standards of broadcasting.

The library helpers, advised by Mrs. Nancy Poston, were kept busy during the year giving students their library cards, checking books in and out, placing books on the shelves, filing cards for the card catalogue, preparing books for circulation, and working on library bulletin boards. Their doing this work left the librarians with more time to help students in the selection of books.

Boys who were interested in helping teachers and in working with technical equipment assisted Mr. Bernie Sheffield in setting up movie and slide projectors, tape recorders, and record players. The projection staff also showed movies in the auditorium to scheduled classes.

Radio Staff: Seated—Malone, Hayworth; Standing—Lewis, Edgeworth, Smithwick, Davis, Craver, Howard, White, Hodgins.

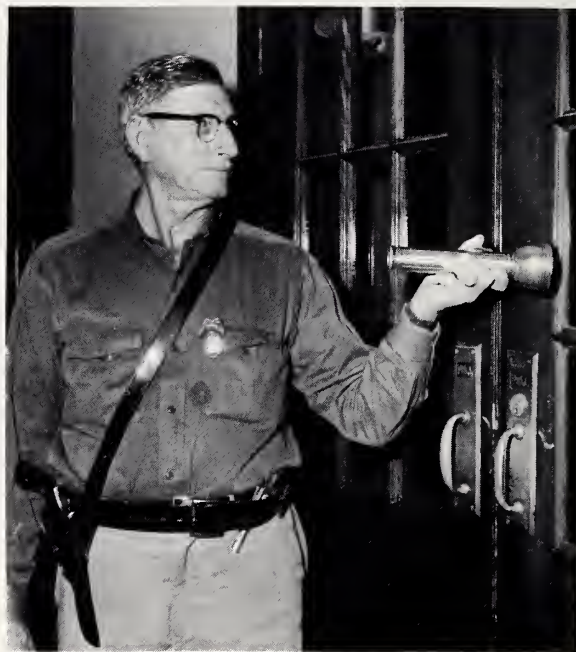

Workers in background keep school

Three gentlemen, unknown to many, performed full-time tasks vital to the welfare of each HPHS student.

Mr. Jack M. Cox, superintendent of buildings and grounds, kept the physical aspects of Senior High in good condition. He and his staff replaced light bulbs, repaired clocks, bells, and desks, and maintained the lawn. Their know-how with mechanical equipment helped to make the school day go smoothly.

Mr. Walter F. Jones, purchasing agent, bought equipment and supplies for the High Point city schools. His efficiency in these matters contributed to the daily success of the school.

Night watchman Robert W. Ring, seldom seen, performed a real service for HPHS. His presence in the building was reassuring to those who worked late on programs or publications. He was always on hand to turn out lights after night events, to lock doors, to inspect buildings and grounds, and to keep a vigilant watch over the entire school plant.

Night Watchman—Robert W. Ring

Cafeteria Staff; Seated—Pearl Stout, Nina Bennett; Standing—Susan Thomas, James Bostick, Isabelle White, Kate Eccles, Melvin Watts, Catherine Burke.

Maids—Sophie Rick, Millie Leach, Mollie Johnson.

Janitors—Aubrey Charles, Grover Colbert.

CLOSING . . .

'That Wonderful Year' is ended

Nineteen hundred and sixty-two has been written onto the permanent records and into the life of every HPHS student. Now as this year quickly draws to an end, we pensively reminisce. The fall, though farthest in the past, may be the most vivid season as we recall exciting football games. Or perhaps the snow-holidays of winter are our fondest memories. Spring, the perennial symbol of beginning, also marks the end of high school for the Class of '62.

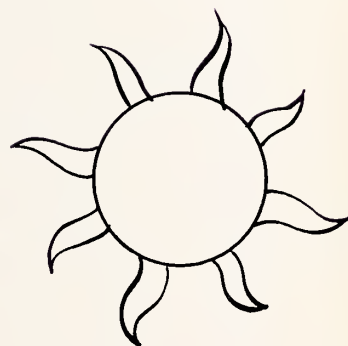

This record of our wonderful year would not have been possible without the support of High Point businessmen through their advertising in the 1962 Pemican. Although the Pemican staff feels that advertisements in our annual will prove of definite value to the advertiser, we would still like to express appreciation to the businesses concerned. This section also contains elements vital to a complete book — indices, statistics, and acknowledgments.

As our students leave HPHS, for just the summer or forever, may they never forget that 1961-62 was definitely "That Wonderful Year."
